Integration into the curriculum

In 3rd grade of high school, students are taught modern history and more specifically WWI. Their level in English is B1+. The focus of the scenario is on the 4 linguistic skills (reading, writing, speaking, and listening), which will be developed in the context of this topic.

The scenario could be used with a single classroom or with collaborating classes within the framework of a project, such as an eTwinning project.

The suggested activities can also be implemented separately, supplementing a lesson based on a course book or during another related project. In the framework of a project, activities are to be carried out collaboratively. The educator provides scaffold and then allows students to work autonomously on the (chosen) activities of each module. The age of the target group students (15-16) and the level of linguistic proficiency (B1+/B2) are suitable for active involvement, negotiating and decision making regarding the activities to be chosen.
The “Activities” section contains a brief overview of each proposed activity but the actual guidelines for students are given in detail at the Annexes I, II, III, IV (Worksheets for Module A, B, C and D respectively).

Aim of the lesson

The main aim of this scenario is to have our students explore the WWI through the eyes of children, as depicted on Europeana objects (postcards, letters, photos etc.), so as to learn and understand some facts about this war, to develop empathy regarding the living conditions at the time, to compare and contrast them with our modern lifestyle and ultimately to produce their own personal stories, crafts, works of art, while enhancing language skills.

Trends

Project-Based Learning: students receive fact-based tasks, problems to solve and they work in groups. This kind of learning usually transcends traditional subjects.

21st century skills

Creativity and Innovation: the Learning Scenario encourages creativity and innovation by engaging students in a number of activities (e.g. creative writing, recreating a painting, role playing) inspired by the Europeana objects.

Critical Thinking: the students conduct their own research in an effort to interpret the meaning of the chosen sources (e.g. postcards, drawings, letters) and explore what they reveal about our common European past.

Communication and Collaboration: these skills are reinforced since the students are expected to communicate using written and oral language, to work on authentic contexts and to assess their peers by using rubrics so as to promote reflective learning.

The last module of the scenario is dedicated at letting the students express their feelings in a creative way while evaluating what they have learnt so far. The students are given three alternatives. They can recreate a visual prompt, a popular 2018 activity, write a poem or enact a role play. In each case they are given support and examples to assist their work. All their work will be compiled and showcased digitally as well as in the physical school surroundings so as to appreciate their effort and communicate their ideas and creations.

Assessment

The assessment of the project is integrated in each module. It takes place through rubrics which are linked to the worksheets. At the end of each module, students can be assessed via a Kahoot Quiz or a Google Form questionnaire which can be prepared by the teacher or the students themselves. During the last module, students are urged to present their work either digitally or by posting it on classroom walls, which is also a way of self and peer assessment.

AFTER IMPLEMENTATION

Student feedback

Students can develop their personal learning diaries to record their thoughts and feelings as well as the knowledge they acquire throughout the project. Their diaries can be shared, commented by their peers or be used as a springboard to write a blog post for the school website.

Teacher’s remarks

Activity “C.A. Gif it up!” was implemented with my students. They were fascinated by the original photos of children, dating back a 100 years. These photos were an excellent stimulus for language production. They also enjoyed working with https://giphy.com/ as learning became more enjoyable, although it can be quite time consuming unless the teacher is well prepared and delivers a short tutorial about how to use it.
About the Europeana DSI-4 project

Europeana is Europe’s digital platform for cultural heritage, providing free online access to over 53 million digitised items drawn from Europe’s museums, archives, libraries and galleries. The Europeana DSI-4 project continues the work of the previous three Europeana Digital Service Infrastructures (DSIs). It is the fourth iteration with a proven record of accomplishment in creating access, interoperability, visibility and use of European cultural heritage in the five target markets outlined: European Citizens, Education, Research, Creative Industries and Cultural Heritage Institutions.

European Schoolnet (EUN) is the network of 34 European Ministries of Education, based in Brussels. As a not-for-profit organisation, EUN aims to bring innovation in teaching and learning to its key stakeholders: Ministries of Education, schools, teachers, researchers, and industry partners. European Schoolnet’s task in the Europeana DSI-4 project is to continue and expand the Europeana Education Community.
ANNEX I

MODULE A: Setting the Scene

A.A. Caption the image

1. Look at the following picture and think individually first, taking some notes on a piece of paper:
   - Who are these people?
   - What are they doing?
   - Where are they?
   - When did/do they live?
   - Why are they hugging?

https://www.europeana.eu/portal/el/explore/galleries/wwi-propaganda-postcards#lg=1&slide=8

2. Pair with your partner and compare your notes. Decide on an alternative caption. (the original caption is “With love from Daddy”)

3. Share your captions on a digital board (http://en.linoit.com/) or on a real board with colourful sticky notes for everyone to see.

A.B. Clouds and words
4. Watch the video https://www.iwm.org.uk/collections/item/object/1060000124

5. Use the https://answergarden.ch/ tool to brainstorm the feelings of the families as they watch the soldiers leave the country.

6. In small groups of 3-4 students, turn it into a wordcloud using https://wordart.com/. Post your wordclouds on the same digital board (http://en.linoit.com/)

A.C. Let’s transcribe!

8. Browse the collection https://www.europeana.eu/portal/el/collections/world-war-I?f%5BPROVIDER%5D%5B%5D=Europeana+1914-1918&q=letters&view=grid and in the same groups (3-4 students) pick 1 letter or postcard, transcribe it and post/annotate on the map which is posted on https://www.thinglink.com/

9. Here is an example for you: https://transcribathon.com/en/documents/id-21801/item-258875/

Alternatively:

8. Browse the collection https://www.europeana.eu/portal/el/collections/world-war-I?f%5BPROVIDER%5D%5B%5D=Europeana+1914-1918&q=letters&view=grid and in the same groups (3-4 students) pick 1 letter or postcard, transcribe it and post/annotate on the timeline (https://www.tiki-toki.com/ or www.sutori.com)
ANNEX II

MODULE B: Life at the trenches

B.A. Our “small museum guidebooks”

1. Browse “Laura’s (age 11) Small Museum Guidebook”, see the exhibits and read the descriptions below each one of them.

2. In small groups (3-4 students) decide which objects you would include and why. Produce your own “small museum guidebooks” using the collection of 3D objects (5 objects).
   https://www.europeana.eu/portal/el/collections/world-war-I?q=TYPE%3A3D&view=grid

B.B. Telling Stories

3. Each group writes a short story based upon another group’s guidebook.

4. Each group reads the other groups’ stories

5. You can use https://www.canva.com/create/ebooks/

6. Use these resources to help you organise the writing process
   http://www.readwritethink.org/files/resources/interactives/plot-diagram/

7. To assess each group’s story you can use these criteria

8. As a follow up activity (optional) you could vote for the best story and turn it into a video with https://spark.adobe.com/sp/

9. You could alternatively turn it into an interactive, nonlinear story using http://twinery.org/

B.C. Let’s Play!

10. At home, you can play
ANNEX III

MODULE C:
Children’s lives during WW1

C.A. Gif it up!

2. In pairs discuss, compare and contrast the living conditions of the children 100 years ago to how they live today. What did they use to do, wear, learn?

4. Here are some examples to get inspired https://gifitup.net/world-war-i/

C.B. War through the eyes of children

You can see children’s drawings depicting how they perceive war.

6. Now take a look at this drawing [ID]/2084002/contributions_12402500_0b34_0136_6466_167dbbf18ed0 made by a refugee and asylum-seeker child during programs run by SB OverSeas at asylum centres in Brussels.

7. Discuss with your partner, comparing and contrasting the pictures (5&6). How does the child perceive the war today? What are similarities and differences to how the children viewed the 1st World War?

8. Now read this blog post, entitled “a refugee’s son”
   https://greatwen.com/2018/06/20/a-refugees-son/ and write a blog post on your own (120-150 words) as if you were a refugee’s son, inspired by one of the above drawings.

9. Here is a blogging instruction sheet

10. Read each other’s blog entries and leave your comments, your impressions, your thoughts.

11. Evaluate your peers’ blog posts using this rubric

C.C. “Dear Father…”

12. On this link you can find the presents (sketches, illustrated letters, wooden toys) made by a father/soldier and sent to his beloved daughter.

13. Below you can see a postcard

14. Role play: In pairs, write and exchange letters. One of you will assume the role of the child writing to your father, who is a soldier, about your everyday life back home. The other one will write back as the father who send a letter from the trenches to his young boy or girl.

15. You can either use pen and paper or this web tool

16. All the letters will be collected on a final ebook.

ANNEX IV

MODULE D: Our feelings today

1. The aim of the last module is to let you express your feelings in a creative way while evaluating what you have learnt so far.

2. In small groups (3-4 students) choose ONE of the activities below. Your final products will showcased within your schools and digitally.

11. Choose a painting, a postcard or a photo from the collections you have already browsed and recreate it.

13. Or here https://pro.europeana.eu/data/vangoyourself

14. Your productions will be posted on a school wall and on the school website.

D.B. Write a poem

15. Write a poem inspired by one of the characters you have met so far, anonymous protagonists of the Great War. Diamond poems, Acrostic poems, Haikus are some of the types of poems you can choose from. Your productions will be posted on a school wall and on the school website.

D.C. Enact a role play

16. Write a short dialogue between a child and his father or mother, and act it out. Remember what you learnt about the living conditions at the time, decide on the setting, the main characters.

17. After writing the dialogue, rehearse it. You can either record it or perform it live on stage.

18. You may decide to have a mannequin challenge, in which people remain frozen in action like mannequins while a moving camera films them https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Mannequin_Challenge

19. Photos of your work will be posted on a school wall and on the school website.
